House on the Cliff

My name is BettyBoo, but my friends call me Boo. Without giving my age, I would say I am more mature in age but with a young outlook. I have been on 3dxChat since 2015, joining here with a friend from RLC/Utherverse. Since then I have dabbled in everything from being an escort to through to a DJ, photographer and adult content producer. I have over the last few years developed an interest in building and creating new and exciting online worlds and homes for people within the 3DX Chat world.

My first ever build was this home called 'The House on the Cliff and was available for download on the 3dxmodz* website.

It's a three story house built into the side of a sheer cliff, overlooking a waterfall. As with most of my builds they are designed to allow for comfortable living and relaxation with all the amenities you would expect, and a few you would not. There are also lots of natural attractions to explore around and under the house as well as a moon pool on the second story of the home. This glass bottomed pool allows for amazing views out over the bay where the house is situated.

I have done a number of shoots at this location and it is one of my favourite builds. It uses some of my own ideas a swell as elements from other talented builders, so full credit is given to them.
